As summer draws near to an end, we're soaking up the sunshine while we still can.

People of POINT

"I am a senior this year, graduating in the spring with a Business Administration degree with an emphasis in marketing and a minor in communication. My goal is to market or promote a product or service that makes a difference in people's lives. For instance, I recently met a woman who works at the Boys and Girls Club. She was really excited about what she is doing because she got to dabble in everything and make a difference with the kids that go there. I want to do something like that. I met her through PRSSA, a school organization that I serve as the co-vice president. Every Wednesday we have speakers come in and she was one of the speakers that was hosted; I got to talk to her one-on-one after her presentation.

I am also the assistant event intern [in University Relations and Communications]. I like event coordinating, but I want to get into the marketing side of things. I have learned through my internship that I don't want [event coordinating] to be the main focus of my job, because I enjoy the marketing more.

I have learned a lot and have met so many interesting people through my involvement and work [in PRSSA and University Relations and Communications]. Brittany [Kaminski], my boss and supervisor for PRSSA has taught me so much that I can take with me when I graduate. I wouldn't trade this internship for anything."
